

HUMANS OF MARCEL CALLO

« He vomited on the ground »

Olivier Clero CPE

I will tell you a couple of stories. The first concerns two students: one was a terminal student and the other, a BTS student. They stole a Marcel Callo's racing car to drive in the streets of Redon. Finally the students had a car accident on a roundabout. They were expelled of the High school. « It was the most lively day of my career ». The other story was when one morning a student came into my office, he was crying and he was pale. I asked him why he cried and suddenly he vomited on the ground. It began a nice day!

«I chose this job because at the beginning I was a social-cultural activities organizer. I looked for a job with this requirement. A post was free so I suggested my candidate and I was accepted. I've been working in Marcel Callo for 10 years now.»
